MEMORANDUM FOR: D/DCI/IC

SUBJECT: HUMINT Branch/Human Sources Committee
Reorganization Recommendations

1. I am convinced that the HUMINT Branch/Human Sources Committee problem as it relates to IC Staff reorganization is not clearly understood.

2. The Human Sources Committee (I am proposing a name change to Human Resources Information Committee) requires a permanent and enlarged staff to accomplish its tasks. For the past year the HSC has required outside support from IC/HUMINT Branch. This support has been moderately effective, facilitated by the dual roles of General Wilson as D/DCI/IC and Chairman, HSC.

3. Regardless of personality and origin, hopefully from State in the form of an Ambassador or ex-Ambassador, the proposed new HSC chairman will have his own persuasions, attitudes and approaches. The DCI and D/DCI/IC have in the past found it politically and otherwise expedient to call on an independent staff capability to handle certain HSC matters (Tab A). The DCI and D/DCI/IC will require this independent HUMINT staff capability even more with a full-time HSC chairman and staff.

4. IC/HUMINT staff element activities are not comparable to the SIGINT and Imagery staff functions. There is no national HUMINT program manager or responsible individual. Most national human sources collection activities are not part of the National Foreign Intelligence Program. Many departments capable of contributing to the national effort have no information/intelligence plans, no defined information objectives, no programs, and no defined information (or intelligence) managers and information-management mechanisms. These major agencies do not yet recognize the role of the DCI or the IC Staff.

5. The human sources effort is more than an intelligence community problem. It is virtually a government-wide matter. Important and continuing initiatives outside USIB member departments are required to achieve a coordinated national effort in human sources information collection and reporting. These initiatives involve departments and agencies such as Commerce, Agriculture, Labor, Interior and Justice, among others. A staff capability outside the HSC is necessary to focus this effort with the required impact (see Tab B). Obscuring the intelligence label to the extent possible is also required in dealing with these departments and agencies.

6. I strongly recommend that any reorganization of the IC Staff provide for the following:

a. A solid and expanded Human Sources Committee staff, preferably housed in the IC Staff, capable of supporting a full-time chairman also in the IC Staff.

b. An independent human sources information and intelligence staff capability directly responsive to the D/DCI/IC and DCI separate from the HSC staff, but operating in tandem with the HSC staff. (There should be duality of functions, e.g., Chief HUMINT Branch serves as vice-chairman HSC and individual IC/HUMINT officers serve as heads of HSC sub-committees.)

c. Positioning and identification of the HUMINT Branch (with new title: Human Resources) such that it can perform effectively outside the intelligence community without the stigma attached to intelligence and the relationship between CIA and clandestine activity.

d. The IC Staff human sources information (HUMINT) staff should operate directly under the D/DCI/IC or his deputy. It should not be subordinated to any intelligence functional staff element which is deeply involved in other major collection disciplines. Such involvement comingles these activities with those of HUMINT in such a way as to over-emphasize, at least in terms of cultural impact upon non-intelligence agencies, the intelligence aspects of what otherwise should be regarded as non-intelligence, non-sensitive information and/or cultural exchange activities. In summary, such subordination within a larger staff element with broad intelligence responsibilities would (1) aggravate security concerns and decrease effectiveness in dealing with DDO and other clandestine components of the intelligence community, and (2) attach intelligence connotations of traditional intelligence programs to initiatives of the IC Staff with non-intelligence agencies of the government.

MEMORANDUM FOR:

Mr. E. H. Knoche

1. Our own continuing review of various Agency activities coincides with external inquiries by the President's Commission on CIA activities within the United States and by a new select committee of the Senate tasked to review U.S. intelligence activities.

2. All of this provides favorable opportunity for development of alternative plans and policies that can lead to more effective organization and functioning of both the U.S. Intelligence Community and the CIA.

3. Please establish a small and temporary task force with the following specific duties:

a. Gather together plans and concepts that can be useful to me in considering future organization and functions in CIA and the Intelligence Community. It will be helpful to be able to provide the President's Commission and Congressional bodies with our advice and recommendations in these areas.

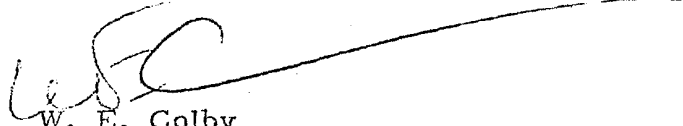

b. Ensure the best possible quality and consistency of staff support to me in my Community leadership role and as head of the CIA in dealings with the President's Commission and Congressional committees engaged in review of intelligence activities.

c. Conduct direct liaison between the Director's office and the staff of the President's Commission.

d. Conduct direct liaison between the Director's office and staffs of the Senate or other Congressional review committees in coordination with the Office of Legislative Counsel.

1. General Giller called re conversion of AEC to ERDA and AEC. He advised he had talked to Seamans about the role the intelligence function would serve. He stated he had heard that members of the IC Staff had been concerned about the location of the intelligence function. He advised that Seamans wanted the intelligence function to be under the National Security Unit, i.e., Giller, and that the terms of reference for the function would require the division to serve all of ERDA as well as the AEC Commissioners. He noted also that his small staff was sensitive to the Intelligence Community's interest in the peaceful use of atomic energy and that he would represent that interest properly at the USIB. I stated that one member of our staff had raised the question as to the location of the intelligence function in the reconstituted ERDA but to my knowledge we were all awaiting some determination of the final location. I suggested that at the next meeting of USIB he be prepared to give a briefing on the intelligence role in ERDA, its location, etc. by way of information. He agreed to do so. (Attention [] Please follow up on this.)

STAT

I alerted the Director to the call and confirmed that he is fairly relaxed about the matter. He agreed the USIB briefing would make sense and will look forward to a subsequent session with Seamans which Giller also advised he would arrange in the course of the upcoming weeks.

STAT

John:

The question of ERDA (AEC) membership on USIB is a dead issue. Mr. Colby indicated that he does not intend to bring up this point at this time. Gen Giller will briefings discuss at USIB on 24 Jan the new Agency and where intelligence fits in.
